

BOLLING DENIES SANDS'S CHARGES

Accepted $600 For Work Done on Sands's House and Was Offered Part of $1,000 Which Sands Said He Got From Shipbuilders, But Refused It.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 30.—R. Wilmer Bolling, brother-in-law of President Wilson, denied on the witness stand before the Walsh congressional investigating committee here today that he had assisted in obtaining any ship building contract. He further denied he knowingly received any part of the $40,000 fee alleged to have been paid by Wallace Downey, of the Wallace Downey Ship Building Corporation, for such a contract, as charged by Tucker K. Sands.

Bolling testified that Sands paid him $600 in 1919 but that this represented a profit Sands had agreed to pay him for building Sands's house and that he had refused to accept part of a $1,000 fee which Sands said he got from a shipbuilding corporation, but that he did not know the source of this $600.

Bolling testified that he had met a Mr. Craner, who Sands had previously testified was the agent of Wallace Downey, and that he, Bolling, had interceded with Lester Sisler, then secretary of the shipping board, to aid Craner in facilitating the shipment of some "bending roll" machinery to Craner's company.

Bolling characterized as "absolutely false" the testimony of Fuller that the latter had seen Sands give a check to Bolling. Bolling challenged Sands to produce all of Sands's checks made out to Bolling since January 1, 1918.

Bolling reading a lengthy statement to the committee which he had prepared before leaving Washington. In the main this statement was a reiteration of the denials he had made to newspaper men immediately after Sands had made his sensational $40,000 "bribe charge."

Bolling's statement began by explaining that early in 1918 Sands sent John Craner to see him with regard to machinery for ship construction. The statement continued:

"Mr. Craner told me that this machinery was 'bending rolls' and was to be shipped to his company from the factory but at the last minute some other company succeeded in having the order changed, and that this machinery would be diverted to them and that an injustice was being done to Craner's company. I know nothing about the construction division, so in the presence of Mr. Craner, I called up Mr. Lester Sisler who was then secretary of the shipping board. He said he would make inquiry and subsequently told me that he had found from inquiry that the rolls had been promised Mr. Craner's company and would be shipped to them."

"A short time afterwards Mr. Sands told me he had made or would make $1,000 in connection with this transaction and that he was 'going to take care of me.' I told him I would accept nothing."

"He then mentioned the $600 which he still owed me in connection with the changes made in connection with his house, which I had built, saying that he had not forgotten it and would pay it."

"I have no thought what Mr. Sands's relation was to the machinery people, but simply looked upon him as vice-president of a large bank and a man who was justly indebted to me."

"I then told him I would be glad to have him pay me what he owed me, but that it would be in no way connected with fees or commissions involving government work."

"When my request he subsequently told me the $600 as follows: 'February 18, 1918—$300. January 26, 1918—$200 and August 5, 1918—$100.'

"I have no knowledge of where this money paid me by Sands came from."

"Sands also made me a loan of $500 on May 21, 1918, for which I gave him my note."

"This was repaid by me with interest, at which time Mr. Sands was unable to find my note."

"However, I have my cancelled check bearing his endorsement. This represents every cent Mr. Sands has paid me since December 31, 1917."

BOYS' WELFARE MEETING TONIGHT

The hearty response of Kingstonians to the idea of the Boys' Welfare Conference which will open this evening at 8 o'clock in the High School Auditorium is shown by the fact that 40% of the parents of children in School No. 2 have signified their intention to be present this evening.

Even from distant School No. 4 in the Kingston Point section response is 19%.

These responses together with others from other schools which there has not been time to tabulate are in answer to cards of invitations sent to each parent by the joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club.

As representative of the sentiments of Kingston business men a statement by Sam Bernstein in which he expressed himself as much interested in the movement said: "It is of the greatest practical value and all should realize that great results may come of it. In the rush of business many are apt to forget that the boy represents the future welfare of the community and that until right methods are adopted regarding his early training the morale of the nation must suffer. This movement is of great and vital importance not only to the boys themselves but to all mankind, therefore it is most essential that we should have further cooperation coordination, and extension of boys' welfare in the city of Kingston."

The committee wishes at this time to emphasize the fact that everyone in Kingston is invited to attend and take part in the discussions of this conference in behalf of Kingston boys.

Names of delegates from various organizations continue to come in. Kingston Lodge No. 10, has appointed Arthur Carr, Thomas H. Edmonston and Everett Fessenden.

Kingston Council No. 326, Edmonston Commercial Travelers, has appointed Russell Dana, Joseph Hasbrouck and Fred Anderson.

The complete program for this evening is:

Introductory Address—Dr. F. B. Seelye.
The Boys' Needs—Frank Vaughn, President, Synectech Rotary Club.
Family Influence and Family Welfare Problems Affecting Our Boys—Miss Martha Davis, County Agent, Society For Dependent Children.

Discussion of Family Influence—J. Allan Wood, Chief of Police; Judge Joseph M. Fowler; Floor Discussion.

Personnel Work—W. L. Smith, Apollo Magneto Corporation.
Discussion of Personnel Work—V. A. Gorman, Rose-Gorman-Rose; Everett Fessenden, Fessenden Shirt Co.; Floor Discussion.

The conference will continue Wednesday evening with equally interesting program.

ROADS BOW TO CROPSY'S ORDER

Indications Are That State Railroads Will Cancel Increased Rates And Carry Case Direct To U. S. Supreme Court.

Indications are that the matter of making permanent the injunction of Justice Cropsy in the matter of fare raising by the railroads of the state, will not come up at special term of the supreme court in this city on Saturday, where an order issued on Saturday last at Brooklyn was made returnable.

According to the New York Central and Long Island railroads have decided to abide by the injunction of Supreme Court Justice Cropsy and cancel the increased tariff schedules which were to have become effective Sunday midnight as a result of a recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission permitting intrastate rate increases by railroads. Officials of both roads announced that the proposed increases would be held up until the matter was carried to the United States supreme court. C. C. Paulding, general manager for the New York Central, announced that the up-state roads probably would follow the lead of the New York Central.

OFFICER SHOTS BOY BURGLAR

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 30.—The latest of boy burglar episodes ended today when Policeman Joseph Smith shot David Steele, 16, below the heart.

Steele is charged with being one of three boys who smashed a Forty-second street store window, grabbed some things and ran. Smith gave chase and cornered Steele, who whirled, pointing two navy revolvers and yelled:

"I've got the drop on you, now step back or I'll blow the head off you."

Smith did not know the two revolvers were part of nine taken from the window and were unloaded. So he fired. When asked at the hospital who his companions were, Steele said:

"I'm no rat. I won't squeal. I broke the window with a piece of Irish confetti (a brick). I had two guns in my hands and (turning to Smith) I would have killed you if they had been loaded."

WANT SMITH FOR PIERCE MURDER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 20.—Police here were today hunting for "Al" Smith, central figure in the murder of Henry T. Pierce, wealthy Philadelphian, according to the testimony of the three other participants. Smith came here Sunday with Jack Moss, according to the story Moss told the police. Smith left Monday and has not been seen since. Captain of detectives Clyde Edburn believes Smith may be in hiding in some underworld resort and a dragnet was thrown out this morning.

Moss, arrested last night, made two confessions to Captain Edburn. In the first, which was verbal, he placed the blame for the Pierce murder on Peter D. Treadway. Later he wrote out a confession in which he declared "Al" (Smith) had struck the fatal blow.

Philadelphia detectives took Moss to that city today.

FOOLED EXPERTS FOR TEN YEARS

Bank Employee Got Between $300,000 and $500,000 by Taking Securities From Envelopes Sealed by Bank Examiners.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 30.—Frederick W. French, assistant cashier of the City Trust and Savings Bank, was to be arraigned today on charges of embezzling between $300,000 and $500,000 of the bank's funds. He is said to have confessed to speculations extending over a period of ten years.

French's method, according to his alleged confession, was simple. Whenever a bank examiner would place securities in an envelope and seal it, French would lift the seal and replace the securities with blank paper. The next examiner, seeing the seals on the envelopes, would pass them.

An examiner who was seeking to trace a small mortgage, trapped French. He discovered the blank paper in one envelope and opened others. French was arrested.

French told bank officials that he had dreams of piling up a fortune that would rival that of Rockefeller or Morgan. He said most of his deals went wrong and produced a card index purporting to show what had become of the money he is accused to have taken. His speculations, it is said, amount to $100,000 more than the capital stock of the bank. Directors deposited $250,000 in order to prevent a run.

CONFESSION THREATS.
"Mrs. Ralston" Ours to Robbing Smith College Girls.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Northampton, Mass., Nov. 29.—The career of Mrs. Frances M. Davis, whom the local police call "Mrs. Ralston," and who has confessed to the robbery of more than twenty Smith College students, is under investigation today in an effort to check up her statements.

Mrs. Davis, when arraigned in district court here, broke down and admitted the theft of a ransom case, valued at several hundred dollars, from Miss Mary Bain of Cleveland, Ohio, a freshman at the college. Later the woman also confessed the theft of various articles and sums of money from a score of other students. She was held in $5,000 bail for the grand jury.

Graves Must Stand Trial.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Nov. 29.—As a result of a decision handed down today by the full bench of the supreme court, Edward Graves, vice president of the International Association of United States, is being held in Chicago to stand trial on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to dynamite certain buildings in that city last spring while a strike of shipbuilders was in progress. The action of the court was to dismiss the petition of Graves for a writ of habeas corpus which would release him from arrest on an executive warrant, issued by Governor Coolidge.

WEATHER DELAYS HARDING'S SHIP

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Aboard S. S. Pastores, Nov. 30 (By Radio).—The arrival of President-elect Harding and party at Kingston, Jamaica, this morning was delayed, owing to squally weather encountered in the Caribbean Sea.

Senator Harding was to become the guest of the British governor-general at Kingston. After breakfasting at the governor's mansion, Senator Harding was to motor across the island today, stopping in the midst of a jungle for a picnic lunch.

The American president-elect this afternoon planned to take a dip in British waters at Port Antonio, before re-embarking on the final leg of the journey to Norfolk.

The squalls encountered shortly after leaving the Canal Zone, tossed the fruit ship about considerably, making most of the party quite sick. They were glad to learn that better weather was forecast for the remainder of the trip. Senator Harding managed to keep on deck yesterday but Mrs. Harding kept to her stateroom chairs.

Senator Harding did not plan to make any speeches today other than the brief one in which he will thank the Jamaicans for the welcome extended.

Before the Pastores anchored today, Senator Harding released some homing pigeons which were to carry a good bye message to Panama friends.

LAUNCHING AT NEWBURGH

Choluteca, Fruit and Passenger Carrier For South American Trade, Among Most Modern of Her Type, Slides Into Hudson.

The Newburgh Shipyards, Inc., at Newburgh, this afternoon successfully launched the "Choluteca," one of three similar vessels under contract by them for the Cuyamel Fruit Company of New Orleans. This vessel, which was christened by Mrs. Thomas McKensie Alexander of East Orange, N. J., daughter of William Newsome, Vice-President of the United Fruit Company, is of interesting type, inasmuch as it is especially constructed for the carriage of fruit (principally bananas) and passengers from Central American countries. The "Choluteca" which is designed to carry a deadweight of 2,100 tons on a draft of 17'-0", and to have cargo hold capacity of about 140,000 cu. ft., has been built under the supervision of William Gardner & Company, Naval Architects, of New York, and will fly the flag of Nicaragua, the port of registry being Puerto Cortez. Accommodations have been arranged for a maximum of thirty-two first-class passengers in twelve staterooms.

The vessel is built to the highest class of Lloyd's Register of Shipping. Shelter Deck Rule, and in accordance with requirements of U. S. Steamboat Inspection Service.

The principal dimensions of the vessel are as follows: Length, between perpendiculars, 301 feet, 6 inches; length, over all, 318 ft. 5 in.; beam, molded, 42 ft.; depth to shelter deck, 25 ft.; depth to upper deck, 17 ft.

The vessel is propelled by means of two screw triple expansion engines 125 R. P. M., with steam supplied by three single ended cylindrical boilers 14 ft. 6 in. diameter, 135 lbs. steam pressure, giving a total of 2,500 indicated horse power, designed to propel the vessel at a sea speed of 14 knots when loaded with fruit.

Special arrangements have been made by means of an extensive installation of ventilators to provide a generous supply of natural draft air to all parts of the fruit holds. All structure in the holds and 'tween decks is carefully caulked in with wood to prevent fruit moving or touching the steel of the hull, and the cargo hatches are arranged so that a fruit conveyor may be installed, extending from the upper deck to the hold for economical handling of bananas.

CONGRESS READY TO HELP FARMER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 30.—Members of congress from agricultural states were agreed today upon a program of emergency legislation to provide immediate relief from the "price panic" which is reported to be causing American farmers great financial embarrassment and distress.

Senator Capper, Republican, of Kansas, predicted such a program would be ready for submission to congress when it reconvenes on Monday next.

The calling together of the delegations from Iowa, Kansas and other industrial states for a series of conferences during most of the week, was planned.

Representatives of various farm organizations were also to be heard at these conferences, it was said.

Senator Capper said he was prepared to urge the adoption of a program outlined by himself, which he believed would, if adopted by congress, do much to solve the grave problems confronting the country's agricultural interests.

The salient features of the proposed Capper program were outlined as follows:

1.—Immediate re-establishment of the war finance corporation, about which Eugene Meyer, Jr., its wartime chairman, is to confer with senators tomorrow.

2.—Immediate re-establishment of trade relations with foreign countries and the re-adjustment of credits so as to permit European markets, especially to absorb this country's surplus products.

3.—Extension of adequate credits to farmers, by means of short time loans, so as to permit them relief from the present contraction of credits from which their representatives in congress declare they are suffering acutely.

4.—Fair and open markets for all farm products, free from manipulation by gamblers and speculators.

5.—Congressional authorization for nation-wide, cooperative marketing by farmers, through the Capper-Herberman bill passed by the house and favorably reported by the senate judiciary committee last session.

6.—Broadening and strengthening the federal farm loan system, so as to allow farmers personal credits.

7.—A national marketing board in which the producers will be represented with power to regulate marketing and to advise and assist in stabilizing prices.

8.—Federal regulation and supervision of the packers, especially with respect to stock yards.

While it is conceded that congress will find time to do little more at the approaching short session, than to dispose of the thirteen appropriation bills necessary to finance the government during the next fiscal year, Senator Capper and other Republican senators declare the agricultural situation is so critical congress will simply have to pass some emergency legislation to enable the farmers to cope with it.

EMPLOYES MAY GET STOCK CHEAP

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, Nov. 3.—A $12,500,000 "melon" has been cut by the 25,000 employees of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today in the form of an opportunity to acquire that amount of stock on a "fifty-fifty" stock purchasing plan.

Under this plan, as announced by R. W. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors, each employee who has been with the company one year or more may subscribe for stock equal to the amount of his annual salary. Payments may be made at the annual rate of 20 percent for five years. The employees pay fifty percent of the price and the company pays the other fifty percent. The annual payroll of the company amounts to approximately $25,000,000 per year, which would mean that if all the employees buy all the stock they are permitted to buy, the company will be forced to pay out approximately $12,500,000. It is expected that other units of the Standard Oil organization will adopt similar plans.

JAPAN NOT TO PRESS EQUALITY

Viscount Ishii Tells League His Country Will Wait More Favorable Opportunity—Is Opposed to Amending Covenant Now.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Geneva, Nov. 30.—Viscount Kikijiro Ishii, head of the Japanese delegation at the league of nations meeting, announced today that Japan will not press the resolution for racial equality at the present session of the league assembly.

Plenary sessions were resumed by the assembly this morning, but only routine matters were scheduled for certain.

Viscount Ishii in outlining the attitude of his government, said it was desirable to await a more opportune time before attempting to secure passage of the racial equality resolution, which is designed to benefit Japanese nationals. The viscount declared further that the Japanese are opposed to any attempt to revise the league covenant at the present time.

A committee report providing for annual meetings of the assembly on the first Monday of September was adopted.

The Scandinavian amendment, designed to democratize the covenant of the league, was referred to a committee and there will not be a report on it until next year.

Viscount Ishii addressed the assembly following a report on the work accomplished by the committee on organization, which was read by A. J. Balfour.

"Japan had an opportunity when the league covenant was framed to declare her firm belief in equality," said the Japanese statesman. "We believe equality should be assured to all men irrespective of nationality, race or religion."

"The principle of equality should be established so that the various merits and geniuses of mankind can be emancipated and given free play in the interests of human civilization," said Viscount Ishii.

It should be one of the bedrocks of the great peace organization in order that all nationals owing allegiance to the league should be loyally willing to make sacrifices of blood and treasure when the occasion arises so all should know that league stands for right and not might. Thus, may lasting peace be assured."

Viscount Ishii spoke in English. The most attentive listeners in the hall were the Australians who had planned to lead the fight against a racial equality resolution if it were put forward. The Australians were plainly relieved when the viscount said Japan would wait before seeking action. H. A. L. Fisher was the only member of the British delegation who applauded when the Japanese statesman finished.

That part of Viscount Ishii's address dealing with Japan's future plans for handling the racial equality resolution, follows:

"The Japanese government and people deeply regretted that the original framers of the league covenant refused to accept the Japanese proposal. The Japanese delegates gave notice that they would continue to insist upon the adoption of the proposal in the future. However, in view of present circumstances Japan is strongly persuaded that the league is in a stage where consolidation, organization and actual workings based upon the present covenant should be accorded greater attention and deeper deliberation than questions relating to a fundamental principle which might involve recision in the covenant."

"From that point of view Japan is refraining from making any concrete proposal at this time on the subject of equal rights and equal opportunity. Japan will patiently bide her time until a more opportune moment presents itself."

RETAIL MILK PRICE REDUCED

Owing to a clerical error in the letter from the Dairymen's League giving December prices local milk dealers were greatly puzzled until the correction was received today and it became clear that the wholesale price is to be reduced one cent a quart. The letter from league headquarters as stated, but quoted a price identical with the November price.

In accordance with this reduction in the wholesale price, the local dealers will reduce the price of milk to their customers one cent a quart. Beginning December 1 the retail price of milk in Kingston will be reduced from 17 to 16 cents a quart and from 5 to 4 1/2 cents a pint.

FIRE DESTROYS CORK CITY HALL

With Loss of Million Dollars—Time Bomb Wrecks Building in Heart of London—Sixteen Police Cadets Now Dead As Result of Ambush of Party of Seventeen.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 30.—A building was wrecked in the heart of London early today by the explosion of a time bomb. The explosion occurred in a leather store near London Bridge at 2 o'clock. There were no casualties. All the streets in the vicinity of the explosion were closed to traffic in fear that other bombs might have been planted by terrorists.

Scotland Yard detectives who investigated the explosion said that the bomb evidently had been carried into the building before the close of business on Monday and left concealed in a package.

Two unexploded bombs were discovered during the morning at Rumley and Tarsfield, in Monmouthshire.

Police precautions were made even more drastic in this city today than they were yesterday as a result of the explosion near London Bridge.

Scotland Yard officials said the infernal machine evidently had been constructed of TNT. No evidence was found to connect the Sinn Fein directly with the explosion, but the outrage has caused the greatest alarm.

Members of the special organization of constables, organized during the war, have been notified that they might be called out for service.

Dublin, Nov. 30.—A fresh wave of incendiaryism rolled over southern Ireland today, following the orgy of bloodshed near Kilmichael when 17 cadets of the auxiliary police (black and tan) were ambushed and 15 of them killed outright and one fatally wounded. The remaining cadet is missing.

The Sinn Fein Club at Cork was burned to the ground. The Cork fire brigades refused to fight the flames unless given police protection. Fire broke out in the Cork City Hall and later a jewelry shop was burned. A short time after the blaze was extinguished in the city hall another fire was set in the same building. Shooting broke out in Cork while the firemen were returning from the Sinn Fein Club fire. There was a heavy fusillade in the streets.

A band of men, armed and masked, burned the Sinn Fein bank in Harcourt street, Dublin. A time bomb was exploded in a hide merchant's shop in Dublin and the building was wrecked, but there was no casualty.

Reprisal fire broke out in County Cork, following the killing of the police cadets. Nearly all of the houses at Kilmichael and in the immediate districts were destroyed. Business is at a standstill.

Mac Croom, where the bodies of the dead police cadets were taken, is under heavy guard of troops. The bulk of the population has fled, fearing reprisals.

Soldiers are combing County Cork for the ambushers who killed the police cadets. There were nearly 100 men in the attacking party. According to information received by Dublin Castle the attackers wore khaki uniforms and trench helmets.

Cork, Nov. 30.—The city hall was completely destroyed by fire today. The damage is estimated at $1,000,000. The first attempt to fire the building was unsuccessful, but the torch was applied a second time.

Black and tan policemen were active all night and during the early hours today there was heavy rifle firing and bomb explosions. Many houses and shops were damaged and there was much looting.

Part of the population became terror stricken and fled from the city. The incendiary damage at Cork during the past week, including the loss from the destruction of the city hall, is estimated at $5,000,000.

London, Nov. 30.—The authorities are said to have discovered a Sinn Fein plot to blow up power houses supplying London and all are being heavily guarded. Similar plots are said to have been discovered at Manchester.

Macroom, Ireland, Nov. 30.—Five of the victims of the ambushade of two police horses near Kilmichael were officers. The death of a constable has brought the total to sixteen.

The dead include Major Baynes, of the auxiliary police, four captains and ten cadets.

CONDEMNNS ULSTER TB HOSPITAL

State Inspector Points Out Defects and Says New and Modern Plant is Needed For White Plague Victims, Including Children—Supervisors Also Hear Reports of County Clerk and District Attorney.

As per his annual custom since he has been a member of the board of supervisors, Lemuel Bogart, who represents the town of Marbletown, looking over carefully to the interest of his constituents, brought a barrel of selected apples of the greening variety to the court house with him Monday evening and supervisors each and all did justice to the apples equal to what they had done earlier in the session to the jug of pear cider which Supervisor Sagendorf presented to the members. The session Monday evening started promptly at 7:30 o'clock and Clerk DeWitt read the reports and motions in his usual quick and plain manner and the business of the session was quickly disposed of.

The first matter brought up was the reading of the annual report of County Clerk C. K. Loughran which was a statement of the money received by him at the county clerk's office for the year from November 1st, 1919, to October 31st, 1920, being as follows:

For recording deeds.....	$ 4,945.22
For recording mortgages.....	2,684.60
For recording documents and other papers.....	2,729.46
For docketing and cancelling judgments.....	202.20
For exemplifications and copies of papers.....	508.55
For filing papers and other services.....	316.93

Total receipts..... $11,387.16
In addition thereto to the above there was also received by the county clerk and his assistants the sum of $22,106.59 being the net amount of the recording tax on mortgages recorded in the county clerk's office from November 1, 1919, to October 31, 1920. All of the said moneys have been paid over to the county treasurer and receipts taken therefor. Referred to the committee on county clerk and surrogate.

District Attorney Traver reported having received in fines $850, being $750 from Earl D. Storms and $100 from Ralph Crouthamel, all of which had been turned over to the county treasurer. Referred to the committee on county judge and district attorney.

District Attorney Traver reported having received from court and jury fund as per resolutions of the board of supervisors for expenses from 1918 to 1920, two allowances in $700 each, and that there was a credit balance of $433.18. The report was referred to the committee on county judge and district attorney.

Communications were read from the State Board of Charities including two reports of inspections of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, one in 1919 and one in 1920. The last one, being dated September 17, 1920, by David W. Parks, M. D., makes the following statements of needs and defects:

1.—That plant is in poor repair, inadequate capacity and generally unsuitable for its purpose. The early erection of a modern hospital plant which should include suitable accommodations for children is needed.

2.—Equipment especially for laboratory work and sterilization is inadequate.

3.—The buildings are readily combustible; the rooms on the second floor of the main pavilion do not have alternate means of egress.

4.—The use of outside toilets by occupants of wards is unsanitary and inconvenient.

5.—Meetings of the Board of Managers are not held at the hospital as required by law.

6.—The replacing of the present visiting medical staff which has no well defined function by a consulting board of specialists appears advisable.

The reports were filed as was a letter dated November 1st, from the Board of State Charities again calling the attention to the need of a modern tuberculosis hospital plant.

Supervisor Schermerhorn gave notice that at some future date that he would move to have Section 7 of Rule 6 suspended so that resolutions for the appropriations of money could be acted on without being laid over until the following day.

Supervisor Frautcher offered a resolution, which was carried, that the chairman be directed to enter into a contract with the trustees of the Albany Penitentiary for the care of prisoners from Ulster county from January 1, 1921, to December 31, 1921.

Supervisor Sage offered a resolution that rejected taxes returned by the state comptroller be levied and assessed on the respective lands in the several towns and tax districts and the said rejected taxes so levied be collected by the collectors of the several towns and tax districts in the same manner as taxes of the current year. AT THE THEATERS.

"Katzenjammer Kids" at Opera House—Nazimova at Keeney's.

Four animal characters take part in the swift moving action of "Katzenjammer Kids," the big song, dance, fun and girl show made from the famous comic supplement cartoons which George M. Galt will present at the Kingston Opera House tonight at 8:15. They are a monster bear, a playful dog and a ferocious tiger and their antics are one of the many big laughing features of a show that is said to be crowded to the brim with hilarious comedy. A big fashion plate chorus is not the least attractive feature.

At Keeney's tonight and Wednesday Nazimova will appear in her most recent production, "The Heart of a Child." To see it is to live through the struggle Sally Snape made against the world's attack, at once so alluring and so sinister, with only the armor of her labor sense of right to guard her.

At the Auditorium.

A motion story picture of the western ranch type written in a masterly style, abundantly stocked with new and perilous stunts, developing a plot of unusual strength and detail, and enacted by a sensational star and a fine company in the midst of superb scenic effects—that's Buck Jones in "Firebrand Previews" at the Auditorium tonight. A mystery drama with an all star cast in the attraction for tomorrow, entitled "The Scarlet Oath," also Tom Mix in "A Chip of the Flying 'U'."

"The Valley of Doubt" will be the play at the Kingston Opera House tomorrow. It is a story written by Willard Mack and is a drama of the great outdoors, and the plot is born of conditions as they really exist in a country that has not yet come under the yoke of civilization. Against the backgrounds of the northwest two men fight for mastery and a girl.

63,478 PEOPLE WHO BOUGHT

The fifth anniversary of the opening of the Warren Sporting Goods Store at 250 Fair street is a milestone in the growth of successful business and, incidentally, Mr. Warren believes that a certain amount of this success is due to advertising, as there have only been 5 or 10 days out of the 1,500 that the store has been open that this paper has not carried his advertisement.

Here is a brief outline of the business:

Mr. Warren was unable to secure a long lease on a Wall street store so he purchased, in the spring of 1915, the old Bray homestead, contrary to the advice of his friends, and rebuilt it into the Warren building which contains a number of offices on the second floor and the post office and the sporting goods store on the main floor.

The sporting goods store was opened on December 1st, 1915, with a small and meager stock.

The sales gradually increased and in 1918 he bought out a Victrola company and a few months later he bought the entire stock and good will of Harry P. Carr.

His bookkeeping system is interesting in that it shows the smallest month was March, 1916, with 204 customers, and the largest month up to date was December, 1919, with 2,500 customers. It also shows that there have been in his store 63,478 customers who actually bought merchandise.

Mr. Warren's initiative has resulted in giving the city of Kingston a sporting goods business not surpassed between New York city and Buffalo.

Another thing to note is the attractive window displays, which attract nearly all of the out of town salesmen as well as local admirers. Mr. Warren was at one time connected with the American Tobacco Company in their window display department.

It is to be hoped for the benefit of Kingston and Ulster county that Mr. Warren will be able to increase his business in the future and keep this store running on the same business principles as in the past.

CONNELLY MAN WAS BLACKJACKED

Lester McKinley of Connelly, engineer on the Cornell line tug Primrose, is in the Roosevelt Hospital in New York city with a fractured jaw and other injuries sustained last week when he was held up and blackjacked on one of the streets in that city. Word of his plight was received in Connelly on Saturday and his wife left immediately for New York. It is said that after the assault Mr. McKinley lay unconscious in the hospital for two days, and that it was necessary to perform an operation. Late reports state that his chances for recovery are good. At the time he was blackjacked he had but ten dollars in his pockets.

BACKS SAVINGS MOVEMENT.

Government's Effort Backed By State Organized Labor.

Organized labor of the state of New York is appreciative of the efforts of the government to teach the people of this country the principles of economy, saving and safe investment, according to James P. Holland, president of the New York State Federation of Labor.

Mr. Holland has been an active supporter of the savings movement since its inception in 1917 and has helped in every way possible to encourage savings on the part of the working people of this state and assisted in the formation of Government Savings Associations in industrial and commercial establishments throughout the state.

In writing to John L. Harnett, supervisor of the labor section, Mr. Holland said:

"The Government Loan Organization of this Second Federal Reserve District is rendering an important service to the working men and women of this district in urging them to invest their savings in government securities and practicing thrift, and, no doubt, many of them will appreciate in the future the habit they have acquired under the urging of the labor bureau of the government loan organization."

Under the guidance of the labor section the various labor bodies in the Second Federal Reserve District are now actively promoting the savings movement among the working men and women of the district. A good many organizations have recently appointed savings chairmen whose duty it will be to encourage savings and investment in government securities in the individual plants where their members happen to be employed.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

He Was Just an Average Guy Who Raised a Family and Did an Honest Day's Work, But It is Such as He Makes the World Go Round, The Stroller Hears.

"I see where a man died and left a couple of million," remarked the customer glancing up from the newspaper he was reading.

That so?" replied the barber in a disinterested tone.

"You act as if it was not of interest to you," said the customer.

"It is not," replied the barber.

"For I hardly imagine he left any of the millions to me."

"Hardly," retorted the customer sarcastically, "but it is of interest to a lot of us who never expect to see a million of our own."

"Fiddlesticks," said the barber, adding: "In the same paper you are reading you'll find a few lines relating to the death of a man who didn't leave a million, and who probably had his name in the newspaper but three times in his life, when he was born, when he was married and when he died."

"But of what interest is his death to me? I didn't know him," retorted the customer.

"I don't suppose you did," replied the barber, "for he was only an average guy who raised a family, paid his debts and did an honest day's work, but take it from me, it is such as he who make the old world go round even if they don't pile up a million doing it."

"That may be all true," said the customer, "but his life was not of as much interest as the guy who did."

"Not in your opinion, maybe," retorted the barber, "but I would not be surprised but he got as much out of life in his way as the other man did."

"I doubt it," replied the customer.

"I don't," said the barber, "for I happen to have known the man; I am speaking of, and he always took as much out of living as though the whole world belonged to him."

"That may be," interrupted the customer, "but I am sure to see even as he could be earned but very little, if any."

"While it adds a lot to a man's dignity to be able to get himself out of the back and out, well, I am sure such of the world, anyway," agreed the barber, "he really don't get any more real pleasure out of life than the fellow who rents his house."

"That may all be," agreed the customer, "but he has one advantage; he don't have to move when the landlord raises the old rent higher than the pay envelope can stretch."

"You said it then," retorted the barber with a grin.

THE STROLLER.

Mrs. E. T. Hylle.

Fifteen-year-old Edith Fletcher of Chicago, has the distinction of being the most "penned" girl in the United States. Miss Fletcher, a student in Hyde Park High School, was a contestant in the perfect child contest held recently in the Children's Museum, Chicago. She was picked by the judges to be the most perfect in health.

the occupants of the seats."

WASHINGTON TEMPLE

Is Plan of Masons in State of New York.

Worshipful masters of Masonic lodges have been notified by Grand Master Robinson that it is time for the state of New York Masons, the largest jurisdiction of the world, to get busy in raising a fund for the erection of a temple in commemoration of the first president of the United States, George Washington.

It is hoped to secure a contribution for some amount from a nickel to $5, from every member in the state, about 250,000 at this time. It is proposed to build the temple on the ground once purchased for use as site for the capitol building of the United States, which was abandoned later and has now become property of the Alexandria Masonic bodies.

Some of the state jurisdictions have indicated and paid in from $10,000 to $20,000, and it is anticipated that New York will cover the $100,000 mark.

All the Grand Lodges in the United States with the exception of three, have taken membership in the Washington Alexandria movement. It is expected that work will be started the coming year.

In the lodge room of the new temple will be placed the identical chair that Washington occupied while presiding as master in the Alexandria Lodge. A number of Washington relics collected by Alexandria Lodge will be contributed, and money will be expended.

freely in collecting everything that has a bona fide association with Washington and his times.

INNOVATIONS IN SMITH'S GARAGE

The new garage of Dr. Wright J. Smith in the rear of Clinton avenue at the head of Main street, has been open for business for several days and today plumbers of the B. Loughran Company completed the installation of the steam heating system.

The garage is 106 by 116 feet in size—one of the largest in this section of the state, and is entirely fireproof, having been constructed of brick, concrete, steel and glass. Two entrance doors at the front of the building are each 16 feet wide, besides which there are four eight-foot doors on the other side of the building.

One hundred and fifty cars can be stored in the garage at the present time, but later this capacity will be reduced by reason of the construction of concrete guides which will divide the floor space so that each car will have its particular parking space. The concrete guides, which are being installed in all the modern garages, are ten feet long, forty-nine inches wide and four inches high, and a car must occupy the space provided for it and no other space. All fender-bumping and ramming is thus prevented. The guides will be so constructed that the aisles between the rows of cars will be twenty-two feet wide. The width of the aisles, together with the two main entrances, will permit cars to enter or leave the garage easily without interference with any other cars.

The furnace room adjoins the main building but is entirely separated from it by a fireproof door, and all danger from that source is thus eliminated.

Marin H. Snyder, the well known automobile mechanical expert, is in charge of the repair department and workshop, which occupies a detached building, 30 by 60 feet in size, with an addition 16 by 25 feet. All buildings are supplied with city water and well drained. One gas tank has been placed between the entrance doors of the garage, and another has been placed at the curb on Clinton avenue.

The driveway from the street to the garage has been constructed of asphalt, with a heavy stone base, and is of easy grade. Between the driveway and the garage is plenty of space for cars to turn.

An office building and show room is being constructed on Clinton avenue, between the driveway-entrance and the adjoining Stuyvesant Garage which will be one of the most modern in this section. The building is of brick, two stories in height, and plate glass windows will permit ample display and automobile accessories. This building will be completed within a short time.

During the winter, further improvements and construction work will be carried on inside the garage, but this work is of a character that can be done at any time and does not interfere with its present operation.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Nov. 29.—The turkey supper last Tuesday surpassed all expectations; the Ladies' Aid Society of the village church had expected a goodly sized attendance but had not expected the large number that attracted by the pleasing announcements, put in appearance. The weather was against a proper enjoyment of the evening but nevertheless the fine sum of about $170.00 was netted for the general purposes of the society. To every one, the hearty thanks of the management are extended while those in charge deserve much commendation for the hard work and patience in carrying out this annual supper.

Thanksgiving Day was a most quiet day in the village. The slang phrase, "Nothin' doin'" seems to hit the situation almost exactly, that is to say visibly there was very little going on still we know of many family reunions, where the day was spent in social enjoyment. A few hunters may have been seen as an occasional shot betokened the presence of a sportsman. The "Stutters" attended in exceedingly limited numbers at the post office but the sessions were short.

At the parsonage the dominie had his father and mother and sister-in-law as guests; his brother came up for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Shurtler, their daughter Katharine and son, Robert, all of Ellenville, spent the day at the Ostrander home.

Miss Nellie Elmendorf and Mrs. Wyckoff were at the home of Mr. Abram Elmendorf.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams entertained at the Houghtaling home. Mr. and Mrs. Law, Mr. and Mrs. Sheel and Miss Hasbrouck.

The Brink and Markie families took their annual dinner at the home of Mrs. James Brink in Kingston.

At the Ten Eyck home were Mrs. Chipp, Mr. and Mrs. Everett and Mrs. Kate Chipp.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Huxton of New Rochelle spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnet.

The stone which Judge Clearwater has had made for a memorial to some of his forebears, is now completed. The stone with its fine lettering will make a striking appearance. It will be also a nice addition to the historical value of the cemetery.

Loss of Army and Navy Bonds.

There are to be two army and navy stores on Fair street, both of which are to be opened in a few days. They are to be conducted by different parties. One is to be in the store in the George D. Styles building, 236 Fair street, owned by the day after election by the Democrats, who had headquarters there, and the other will be at 212 Fair street, in the double store in the Centre Row, formerly occupied by the Gator Mail and Two Companies.

CHANUKAH FEAST DEC. 5

The Feast of Dedication, known in Hebrew as Chanukah, will be celebrated in Jewish circles beginning Sunday evening, December 5. This festival lasts for eight days and is observed with joy and gladness in the Jewish home.

The origin of Chanukah is traced to an historical event of tremendous consequence to the Jewish people. In the year 168 B. C. E., the Syrian King Antiochus IV or Epiphanes had resolved upon an imperialistic policy of unifying all the provinces and peoples in his domain. As a preliminary measure towards this consummation of his ambition, an edict was promulgated, compelling all his subjects to adopt a common religion, that of the Greeks.

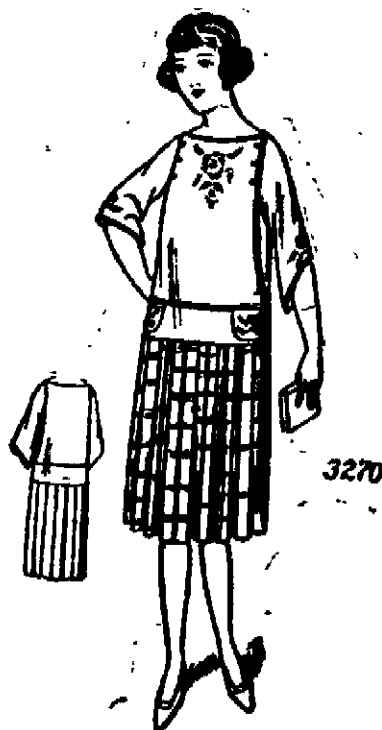

This decree met with unexpected opposition among his least powerful subjects, the Jews. The polytheism of the Greek religion, its tax morality and debasing influences incited the Jews to rebellion. Under the leadership of the aged priest, Mattathias, and after his death, his son, Judas Maccabeus, armed resistance was arrayed against the powerful armies which Antiochus sent against the inhabitants of Palestine. The valor of this heroic band triumphed over the mighty hosts of Syria. The Temple at Jerusalem which had been defiled by idolatrous practices was rededicated to the worship of the one God. The rededication took place on the 25th day of Elul according to the calendar of the synagogue, in the year 165 B. C. E. In commemoration of the victory, the Feast of Chanukah is celebrated even unto this day.

Legends, impressive of this triumph and the festive character of the celebration, have been preserved. An old legend, recounts the miraculous preservation of a single cruse of undefiled oil, found in the Temple at the time of the rededication, which burned for eight days. The kindling of lights in the home and in the synagogue is a distinguishing feature of the festival. The traditional practice is to light one candle on the first night, two on the second and so on until eight are kindled on the last day of the feast.

The special prayers recited in the synagogue in connection with Chanukah stress the triumph of the spirit of God over the might and power of godless man.

The festival is utilized by the modern synagogue as an occasion for participation of the children of the religious schools in plays or pageants which express the glorious victory of the few and feeble over the mighty hosts of oppression.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Good "Blouse and Skirt Style" for the Growing Girl.

Pattern 3270 is portrayed in this model. It is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. A 12 year size will require 6 yards of 36 inch material for the blouse and skirt of one material. The skirt alone requires 3 yards of 36 inch material.

This will be effective in plaid, selfing for the skirt, and pongee for the blouse. Linen, Jean, wash silk and chambray are also good for the blouse, while the skirt may be of serge, gabardine or khaki.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or 1c and 2c stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

WILBUR L. HALE'S USEFUL LIFE ENDS

Civil War Veteran, Well Known Editor of Years Ago and Prominent Figure in Church and Business Circles, Died Monday in 81st Year.

Wilbur L. Hale, Civil War veteran, and one of the best known men in Kingston, died at his home, No. 15 Orchard street, about 6 o'clock Monday afternoon in his 81st year. Mr. Hale was taken seriously ill on Thanksgiving Day, when he became unconscious and remained in that condition up to the time of his death.

Mr. Hale, while a young man, was for a number of years night editor of the Rondout Courier, and was widely known as a brilliant and forceful writer. He remained in charge of the Courier until it suspended publication after the departure of Horatio Fox, owner. The Courier under Mr. Hale's supervision was one of the best papers published in the Hudson river valley.

He was twenty-two years of age when at the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted on August 14, 1862, in Company I, 126th Regiment, and served until June 3, 1865, when he received his honorable discharge from the service. He took a keen interest in military affairs and by his work in the ranks he was promoted to corporal on March 7, 1863. The 126th Regiment participated in many of the most famous battles of the Civil War. At the battle of Gettysburg Mr. Hale was wounded in the right hand, right cheek bone and left hip on July 2, 1863. When he recovered from his wounds he rejoined his regiment and on October 10, 1863, was captured at James City by the Confederates and was confined in Andersonville prison and later in Libby prison. On October 20, 1864, he was exchanged and returned to his regiment, serving as acting sergeant major from May 15, 1865, until the return and mustering out of the regiment.

While in southern prison camps Mr. Hale suffered much privation, and there are many in Kingston today who remember the interesting lecture on southern prison life that he delivered at various times in Kingston. Speaking from personal experience, the lecture was one of the finest ever heard here.

Shortly after the close of the war and his return to civil life Mr. Hale entered the employ of Stow & Benson in the insurance and real estate business, with offices in the Masonic building, Broadway and Strand. At the death of Mr. Benson the business was continued by Mr. Stow, and later it was taken over by the Pardee Insurance Agency. Several years ago Mr. Hale, owing to his advanced age, retired from active business life, and since then had been living quietly at his home on Orchard street.

Mr. Hale was a familiar figure at the annual reunion of the famous old regiment and never lost his interest in military affairs. He was a man who was held in high esteem by all who knew him, and had a wide circle of friends. He always took an interest in religious affairs and was long an active and constant attendant at Trinity M. E. Church.

He was a man of keen intellect, and a brilliant conversationalist, and his company was constantly sought by his many friends. For the past year he has been in failing health, which was a source of keen regret to those who knew him.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Eugene L. of Nutley, N. J., and Edgar F. of Boston, two daughters, the Misses Mary and Mabel Hale, at home, a brother, Wesley D. Hale, and a sister, Miss Emily C. Hale, of this city.

The funeral will be held from the late residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Willow Cemetery at the convenience of the family.

U. S. PREPARED FOR GAS WARFARE

General Fries Tells of Plans To Keep Country From Being Caught Napping in Chemical Warfare And Believes Knowledge of Them Will Discourage Aggression.

By Telegraph to The Freeman, Washington, Nov. 29.—The knowledge among other countries that the United States has decided to continue its chemical warfare service to a point not surpassed by any other nation, will go a long way toward deterring them from forcing hostilities against this country, is the belief of Brigadier General Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service, expressed in his annual report to the secretary of war, made public today.

"The American is truly a sportsman, and in war as well as sport, he is perfectly willing to stand any punishment providing he has an opportunity to give as well as take," said General Fries. "The really serious objection to chemical warfare in the world war arose from the fact that the central empires, as well as most other countries, had agreed not to use it."

"Under such circumstances a sportsman who lives up to his agreement suffers a terrific handicap. No such handicap can occur in the future with the chemical warfare service thoroughly alert to the possibilities of that arm and given sufficient funds and power to prosecute its researches, its development, and its training."

"The United States," added General Fries, "with its incomparable natural resources and highly developed manufacturing possibilities will be able to manufacture and to deliver on the field of battle a greater quantity of chemicals than any other single nation, or indeed, any other group of nations."

During the fiscal year he reported 26 experimental projects were in progress. These included work on a chemical shell; boosters; bursting charges; fuses; new designs of smoke shells; an assembly plant for fixed chemical ammunition; explorers for chemical warfare; mounts; propellant charges and fuses for mortars; thermite grenades; incendiary bombs and smoke generators for tanks.

At Edgewood Arsenal, he said, there is stored approximately 10,000,000 pounds of different substances of a toxic nature and large quantities of gas filled projectiles. In addition there is in storage approximately 2,500,000 shells (all calibers); 285,000 hand grenades; 10,000 100 mm. Stokes bombs; 50,000 empty Livens drums; 20,000 Livens projectors and 97,000 base plates for projectors.

Edgewood Arsenal is now equipped to manufacture the gas for and to fill about 50,000 gas shells per day in addition to filling large numbers of Stokes mortar bombs, Livens projectors, grenades and incendiary bombs. The gas mask program calls for the manufacture of 120,000 gas masks during the coming year and for the manufacture of 300,000 for the year following.

"A future war," said General Fries, "will find this country filling gas shells in large quantities within one week of the time the order therefor has been received. A future struggle will see our army equipped with the most modern gas mask and a skeleton organization for the manufacture of masks in enormous quantities. Our next war will find a regiment of thoroughly trained offensive gas troops ready to take the field. These problems are being worked out in these days of peace, that a future emergency may find them solutions instead of problems."

Chemical Constituents of the Body.
In the composition of a man's body there is enough iron to produce a single large enough to hold his weight, and there is approximately 200 cubic feet of gas, oxygen, hydrogen and nitrogen, which would be worth nearly $4.50 for manufacturing purposes. If you were to distill this from the body, the result would be the same as a full charge of water. The body also contains two ounces of iron, twenty pounds of salt, and considerable quantities of starch, sugar, and protein, phosphorus, calcium and hydrogen.

They Are Hard to Get.
Nearly all of our United States forests and timberland are easily captured, but not so with many of the tropical ones of the island group, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. The South American species of Marghin are amongst the hardest to get. The great East-Indo Chinese species are fully as hard to capture and have a better, calling flight, than most of the species with broader and darker wings, such as the Markham and M. maculosa, have a lower, but very rapid flight through the forest, and are accordingly, the most difficult species very rarely come within reach.

The Earth's Crust.
Interesting facts concerning the earth's crust were disclosed by Col. Sir Sidney Burrard recently. "Isotasy" is the particular science which deals with the structure of the earth, and Sir Sidney told how all mountains and heights standing above the sea level are compensated by deficiencies of matter underlying them below sea level, and that all oceans and surface hollows dipping below sea level are compensated by excesses of matter underlying them in the crust.

POUGHKEEPSIE MAY HAVE RACES AGAIN

Railroad May Be Able To Supply Observation Cars With Return of Normal Conditions—Boat Houses Need Repairs.

Consensus of opinion expressed by rowing experts and lovers of the sport in metropolitan circles over the week end predicts a positive return to Poughkeepsie of the intercollegiate regatta in 1921. The sentiment has been put forth that with observation trains available as in the days of former struggles, rowing men will return to the Hudson, which retains the reputation of being unequalled as the scene of the most brilliant regattas in rowing history.

That the Board of Stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association, when it meets next year, to select the scene of the annual regatta, will choose Poughkeepsie, is based on the confidence felt that railroad officials will find it possible to provide once more the observation trains at Poughkeepsie, that in a large measure made the local course unequalled for spectators.

Rowing men maintain, however, that this confidence does not hint at any criticism of the Lake Cayuga course, used last June. The crowd on the Cayuga course was obliged to group around the finish line, upon the failure of the railroads to provide an observation train. Despite efforts of Cornell authorities and city officials, to provide facilities for observing the races, the attempt was eclipsed by the memory of the famous regattas staged on the Poughkeepsie course.

The gradual return to normal conditions, it is believed, will enable the railroad to provide the observation trains at Poughkeepsie in 1921. It is also pointed out that a few other matters will have to be remedied. A few of the boathouses will need much repairing. The University of Pennsylvania will face the necessity of making extensive repairs to its boathouse, which during the war was allowed to run down. The headquarters of Columbia, however, have been kept in excellent condition.

Minor objection that Poughkeepsie's uneven water conditions will be passed by, it is predicted, by the colleges of the I R A, if other conditions allow of the return to the Hudson.

GERMANS KILL CAR

Is Conclusion of John Pollock, British Investigator.

By Telegram to The Freeman, London, Nov. 30.—(Car Nicholas)

It was murdered by the Germans for motives of Germany policy and with the connivance, if not the instigation, of the German government.

Such is the sensational assertion of John Pollock, son of one of Britain's most eminent jurists, and formerly correspondent in the Baltic for the Daily Express and International News Service.

Pollock made his charges in a closely reasoned article in the Fortnightly Review, one of England's more conservative periodicals. The assertion is based on the statement of an officer companion of the car with whom Pollock talked.

Germany, declared Pollock, was engineering a scheme for the abdication of Nicholas, the raising of his son to the throne and the appointment of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg as regent, the ex-empress's brother, as regent. A further condition of the scheme was the assurance that the son should marry a German princess.

Nicholas, in the act of abdication signed by Fokov, had abdicated the throne not only for himself but for his son as well. It was proposed that Nicholas be brought back to Russia, where he would recant his abdication as having been obtained under pressure and then again solemnly abdicate, but this time in favor of his son.

The car's reply to this proposal, according to the officer quoted by Pollock, was:

"I will not be a traitor to my people."

So the coup, whereby Germany hoped to use the resources of Russia to feed her starving population and buttress her weakening western front, was blocked. And Nicholas and all his relatives who might have had any knowledge of the proposal met their deaths at the hands of Magyar assassins.

The story is, of course, as completely unconfirmable as are many other reports that come out of Russia.

FOOTBALL'S FOUR BIGGEST STARS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 30.—Names that will long be remembered by football enthusiasts who follow the fortunes of the "Big Three" are those of Charles Buell, Don Lourie, Tim Callahan and Arnold Horween.

Here is a quartet whose feats stood out in bright relief amid the doings of the big trio during the greatest season football has ever known.

Don Lourie, versatile exponent of the forward pass and the twisting, dodging, skidding, open-field run, deserves first rank among the quarterbacks of the country this year. He is surely entitled to the pivotal position on every expert's mythical eleven, and it is a bet that he will win recognition from a majority. The Tiger quarterback is a dynamo of action, a good field general and an all-around star. He is nearly as good a defensive player as he is on offense and his work in every big Princeton game was an outstanding feature.

Charles Buell, who hails from Hartford, Conn., and whose work in handling the forward pass and booting field goals won him recognition as Harvard's brightest star, has already emblazoned his name in Harvard-Yale records. His two field goals against Yale and the manner in which he handled the big Crimson team won him enough glory to last the average football player a lifetime.

Horween a Wonder.

Arnold Horween, the Crimson captain, starred in every game played by Harvard this year as a ground-gainer. With Owen and Churchill he plowed up the enemy lines for consistent gains and he also had the menace of the educated toe to compel respect from opponents. Horween proved his versatility when he was taken from the centre position and switched to fullback where he instantly made good. As a line plun-ger he is one of the most consistent ground-gainers we have ever seen and his work on defense is as nearly perfect as it could be. The fact that he is fast for a big fellow, keeps his feet well, uses excellent judgment in picking holes and kicks field goals with power and accuracy gives him the edge on other fullbacks.

Big Tim Callahan, captain and guard of the battered Yale team will live long in the memory of eastern football fans. It was Callahan's ill-luck to captain a losing team two years in succession, but it was no fault of his that Yale failed against her ancient rivals. Had the Yale team as a whole played football as Callahan played it consistently all season Yale would have been victorious over both Princeton and Harvard, such was the excellence of Big Tim's work in the line. He was a giant on defense and a behemoth on offense.
He played ball of the Harvard game with an injured arm hanging helplessly by his side, for that is the way the Callahans are. No, they will not forget Tim Callahan, Lourie, Hor-ween or Buell.

Begins on Wednesday.

PIGSKIN COACHES TO KEEP JOBS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 30.—Few changes in eastern football coaching ranks will be made for 1931.

The seasoned talent and the oncoming crop of players at the various schools, will, for the most part, remain in the hands of the mentors who turned out this year's eleven.
At Yale, where there was much talk of a new coach prior to the Harvard game, Tad Jones will remain in charge, according to a report from a reliable source today.

At Penn, where some dissatisfaction was expressed over the showing of the Quakers, John Heisman will continue at the helm. Heisman has a contract calling for two more years. Some time ago, however, it was suggested that he be relieved of his duties and paid for his unexpired contract. But Penn's victory over Cornell on Thanksgiving Day swept aside opposition to the erstwhile mentor of Georgia Tech.

Larry Bankhardt, former Colgate
Coach, probably will succeed Dave Morrow, resigning at Washington and Jefferson. His appointment, if he decides to accept an offer that has been made to him, will be the only change of importance in coaching circles.

Bob Folwell has made good at Annapolis. Gilmore Dobie is still firmly entrenched at Cornell and "Buck" O'Neill will remain in charge at Columbia.

Bob Fisher at Harvard, Bill Roper
at Princeton, Charles Daley at West Point, Hugo Berdek at Penna State,
Glenn Warner at Pittsburgh, Chich Mochan at Syracuse, and other eastern coaches at smaller schools will return to take up their work of perfecting the new style game next fall.

BARGAIN DAY FOR GOV'T SECURITIES

Today is bargain day if government savings stamps and treasury savings certificates. This is the last day on which you may obtain a $5 government savings stamp of the 1920 series for $4.22, and treasury savings certificates of the $100 and $1,000 denominations at $84.49 and $844 respectively.

Tomorrow the stamps increase in price by one cent and the treasury savings certificates of the $100 and $1,000 denominations by 20c and $2
respectively.

The truly thrifty will take advantage of this opportunity and go to the nearest post office and avail themselves of this bargain. The securities are backed by the entire resources of the United States government, and as they bear interest at per cent, compounded quarterly, will be redeemed for their full face value on January 1, 1935.

Inasmuch as December 31st is the last day on which the savings stamps of the 1920 series may be obtained, the government loan organization suggests to people who have partially filled war savings certificate cards to obtain enough stamps to complete their cards and exchange them for a treasury savings certificate.
Stamps of the new series, which will be placed on sale on January 1st, cannot be pasted on the 1920 cards.

Ensigne Wilder Chapin Dead.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Long Beach, Calif., Nov. 30.—Ensigne Wilder Chapin, one of the best known prohibition workers in the country, and twice nominee of the Prohibition party for president, died at his home here as a result of complications from burns he received in an accident ten days ago. He was 62 years old.

Wreck Survivors Found.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Astoria, Ore., Nov. 30.—Two survivors of the wreck of the schooner barge W. J. Pirrie were found today on the beach near Clallam, Washn., according to word received here.
They were guarding the body of a third survivor who had died.

FINDS DEMPSEY A BEARCAT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 30.—This man Dempsey is certainly a bearcat. Take it from Tom Webster, the famous English cartoonist, who comes back from the wild and woolly U. S. A.
with all the straight dope.

Give ear, for Tom is one concise and interesting talker when he gets started, and in seven short weeks in America he seems to have lapped up considerable of that well-advertised Yankee speed and terseness of expression.

"Carpentier is supposed to possess an inexplicable attribute of hypnotism in his eyes," says Webster.

"If Dempsey possesses any occult powers then they lie in his two hands. Sporting men in the United States are agreed that when Dempsey lands a punch the dull, sickening thud can be heard in Wall street and also on the plains of Wyoming.

"I have returned to the Old Country with a mind deeply impressed by the fact that not only is Dempsey a man-eater but that he could defeat the combined activities of Jack Johnson, Hercules, Atlas, Melbourne, Inman, two platoons of Wurtemberg-ers and Tarzan of the Apes.

"But you can take it from me that there is more truth than mere rumor in the stories that have been circulated about Jack Dempsey's terrific hitting. Look at the man's record.
He hardly ever believes in a fight going more than two rounds.

"Sporting writers, boxers' managers and boxers themselves all agree that Dempsey is the greatest heavyweight that has ever appeared in the ring. Now they can't all be wrong."

"Then, after describing his visit to Dempsey, whom he found to be "just an ordinary fellow and like a big schoolboy," Webster weighs the evidence:

"Let us weigh the situation up for ourselves. There are four things that a champion fighter must have—ability to box, punch, speed and gameness.

"Carpentier has all these qualities, but so has Dempsey.

"Everything appears to be equal,
but the American is about fifteen pounds heavier than his opponent.
There is an old boxing axiom that says: 'You can't give weight away to a champion.'

"Going on the fact that a good big
'un will always beat a good little 'un'
then I must give my vote to Dempsey."

POINT ISABEL AWAKENS

And Will Now Become Busy Gulf
Port.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Point Isabel, Tex., Nov. 30.—This sleepy little fishing village, which plumbed on in oblivion until the visit of President-elect Harding brought it into world-wide attention, is today awakening and holds forth promises of being one of the busiest ports on the southern coasts of the United States.

Point Isabel, for more than a century only a collection of small Mexican fishing shacks, is slated to become the port of the entire Rio Grande Valley. The government has appropriated money to open a channel from this little port to the Gulf of Mexico, and the public-spirited citizens of the Rio Grande Valley have raised sufficient money to change the Brownsville-Point Isabel narrow gauge railroad into a standard gauge road.

Millions of dollars of produce from the Rio Grande Valley will flow out to the world from this tiny little village, and already plans are being made for the establishment of a huge warehouse here.

Point Isabel up to this time has been known locally only, and its population, almost entirely Mexican,
has devoted its entire time to fishing,
when the population chose to work.
The village is built upon the Mexican plan and it is typical of the old world. Only the presence of a handful of marines and sailors attached to a naval radio station give it the appearance of really belonging to the

Without a Bath tub.

Primitive indeed is the village
now. There is not a bathtub in the entire village. There is one lone telephone line which connects it with the outer world, and telegraph facilities are all.

For recreation the people of Point Isabel sit upon the porches of their little shacks all day long in the sun.
On rare occasions there is a dance,
and the Mexican boys, with gaily colored scarfs about their swarthy throats, dance the old-fashioned dances with the greatest of decorum with dark-skinned but prettily featured Mexican girls.

Burras, pigs and cattle roam the village square at will. Doors are never locked. The housework can be moved by any two normal men.

There is one general store, and its post office boasts of two lock boxes.
All of this is now ready to give way to the march of progress, and historic and quaint old Point Isabel in another year will be a thriving port, pouring out to the world huge supplies of cotton, fruit, vegetables and cattle from the Rio Grande Valley.

FOURTH DEGREE SMOKER.

At K. of C. Hall With Talk By Dean Hickey.

Kingston Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, gave a very enjoyable smoker to the newly elected members, and the Third Degree Knights, on Monday evening,
Nov. 29th, at the K. of C. Home.
There was a very large crowd in attendance.

Rev. Dean John J. Hickey, gave a very splendid talk on the topics of the day, which the Knights enjoyed very much.

The entertainment part of the program, was rendered by the Disciple Ditty Quartet. The services of this young quartet are in great demand.

There was a buffet luncheon served, with doughnuts and other refreshments. This was one of the most enjoyable affairs the Knights have held in some time.

windup.

York, defeated Jackie Clark, Albe-

At Philadelphia—Andy (Young)

At Canton, Ohio—Johnny Tiltman, Minneapolis, outpointed Billy

THE UNDERSIGNED will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at his
